Rules and Regulations Regarding the use of Niche Columbariums

-  Niches can only be purchased as Individual, Twin Companion or Triple Companion.
-  Individual and Twin Companion Niches may be upgraded to a higher level in the future if desired but additional fees will apply.
-  Niches cannot be downgraded for a refund
-  Niches are for human interments only, no animal or pet interments allowed.
-  Niche interments may only be conducted during regular cemetery hours and only under the supervision of cemetery staff. Niche opening and closing charges are subject to change from year to year
-  The bronze marker for the niches must be purchased through Wildwood Cemetery and must be the same size and style as existing niche plaques.
-  Laser engraving of the niche cover is included in the purchase price. Wildwood Cemetery customize it to suite your needs.
-  Since the size of each niche is limited, any urn or urns selected to be placed into the niche must be of a size to fit. This is especially important for niches purchased as Companion Niches. Please consult with the Wildwood staff prior to purchasing an urn or urns for interment. Wildwood will not be responsible for any complications arising from an urn or urns that will not fit into the niche.
-  Adhering or gluing any object or decoration to the outside granite cover of the niche is prohibited. Wildwood will not be responsible for any damage or discoloration to the granite cover if this is done.
-  Decorations are permitted and can be placed in the immediate area of the niche. Glass or fragile objects are not permitted. Decorations that become unsightly or excessive may be removed from the niche area at the discretion of Wildwood Cemetery.
-  The transfer or sale of the niche to another party must be administered by Wildwood and will be subject to a documentation fee. The sale of the niche to another party cannot be for an amount more than the original purchase price.

Wildwood Cemetery reserves the right to update any and all rules governing the use of lots at it's discretion.
